MAYOR ATTENDS CLOSING CONCERTS FOR GLASSBORO'S YOUNGEST GRADS

GLASSBORO – Glassboro Mayor Leo J. McCabe attended closing concerts for Pre-K and Kindergarten students at the J. Harvey Rodgers School last week. “These youngsters are our future. They all have the potential to be our hometown heroes and I am proud to be here today to celebrate with them as they get ready for the next step in their education,” said McCabe. Following the concert, McCabe visited classrooms to meet with students, parents and grandparents. Shown in Amy Teesdale’s Kindergarten class with her students are (l-r) Glassboro Superintendent of Schools Dr. Mark Silverstein, teacher Amy Teesdale, Glassboro Mayor Leo J. McCabe and J. Harvey Rodgers School Interim Principal Malcolm Adler.
