Sunday, November 6:
GLASSBORO MARKETPLACE TO OFFER
VISITORS STRATEGIES FOR GOING GREEN

GLASSBORO—The weekly Glassboro Marketplace continues to offer the Jersey freshest produce, musical entertainment and crafts on November 6, encouraging the community to buy local and go green in a free family setting.

The Marketplace will host a Green Fair this Sunday from 10:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m., providing residential energy savings resources and information on regional green initiatives. South Jersey Gas and Atlantic City Electric will be on hand with information on residential energy savings programs. Joining them will be regional green vendors and government representatives offering details about recycling and composting.

“The Green Fair is an opportunity for us to enhance green initiatives in Glassboro, especially as they relate to our downtown revitalization project. We hope marketplace visitors will come away with strategies to help them reduce costs, reduce usage and reduce their carbon footprint in very practical ways,” said Glassboro Councilman Joe D’Alessandro.

Shoppers at this week’s Marketplace will also enjoy performances by members of the Rowan University community. Classical guitarist Phil Goldenberg will perform from 10:00 a.m.-12:00 p.m., followed by the Rowan Jazz Quartet from 12:30 p.m.-2:00 p.m. The quartet includes David Cahill (guitar), Mark Nestman (bass guitar), Johnny Vines (drums) and Joshua Freysinger (tenor sax).

More information on this weekend's Marketplace activities is available by contacting Glassboro Economic Development at 856-881-0500. The weekly Glassboro Marketplace will continue Sundays from 10:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m. through November 13 on Rowan Boulevard in downtown Glassboro.
